The Best Joke Of The Year Is From Islamic Republic of Iran To France

Respect Your Own People !!!

Hamburg , 02.07.2023, 08:54 Time

USPA NEWS - This is the best joke of the year. The Islamic Republic of Iran's Ministry of Foreign Affairs requested that the French government respect its own people. It would be better to write it like this: this request from the Iranian Ministry of Foreign Affairs to France is a joke and disrespect towards the people of Iran.

After 9 months since the unjust murder of an Iranian girl named Mahsa Amini and the protest movement in Iran demanding the condemnation of the oppressive and dictatorial policies of the Iranian regime, as well as the killing of numerous children under 18 years old and the execution of individuals like Mohsen Shekari who had committed no crime other than expressing dissent against the regime's misguided policies, the detention of 25,000 people who are still in political prisons, the widespread arrest of students and journalists in Iran, how is it possible that today the Islamic Republic of Iran requests anything from France?

It is better to say that Iran intends to further infuriate its own people with these types of statements. The Islamic Republic of Iran continues to attack the families of the victims of recent protests in Iran. The security forces do not allow memorial ceremonies for the people and families who were killed, and they even prohibit the slightest protest, even on social media. Inflation and poverty in Iran, one of the wealthiest countries in the world, are so high that, according to some unconfirmed reports, baby trafficking has significantly increased in Iran. The Islamic Republic of Iran is a brutal regime that does everything to prioritize suppressing its own people in Iran. The people of Iran still demand the condemnation of the regime in Iran, and these audacities of the Islamic Republic of Iran will not end unless Europe lists the IRGC as a terrorist organization, as it deserves.

The Islamic Republic of Iran should be ashamed.

There are many reasons why the oppressive regime in Iran should be condemned and the IRGC should be listed as a terrorist organization. Last week, there was news that an individual affiliated with the IRGC, while in Cyprus, was involved in supporting terrorism and planning an attack on Israeli individuals.

The question here is: Why does the European Union, including Mr. Josep Borrell, still have doubts and hesitations about listing the IRGC after all these crimes? Why do they continue to allow audacity from the Islamic Republic of Iran? The people of Iran have continuously demonstrated their desire for freedom through their own blood, imprisonment, torture, and threats over the past nine months. Their protests have taken shape in the most peaceful manner possible. However, the Islamic Republic of Iran, as documented by videos, even fired live ammunition at the balconies of protesters who were merely chanting slogans. Ali Khamenei fully supports this brutal repression, and yet countries around the world are still engaging in trade and negotiations with this savage government
The Islamic Republic governs solely through brutal repression

Democratic governments should understand that the world would be a safer place without the Islamic Republic of Iran, and they could engage in much more profitable trade with Iran. The people of Iran are yearning for friendship, freedom, equality, freedom of the press, and friendship with all countries around the world. However, these people are also facing the darkness of the Iranian government and Ali Khamenei, and they receive no support from powerful governments. They hope for a day when all countries can live in peace and there is no war on Earth.

We must also remember that the Islamic Republic of Iran is the strongest and largest supporter of Russia in its war and crimes against the innocent people of Ukraine.
